DYNAMITERS TO ASK FOR PARDON BY PRESIDENT

Application Directed to White House Prepared Today for Men Remanded to Serve Sentence.

ORDER TO COMMIT IS LOOKED FOR TOMORROW

In Meantime Appeals for Six of Men Implicated in Los Angeles Times Outrage are Being Perfected.

(By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.) Chicago, March 12.—An application for the pardon for the men convicted in the dynamite conspiracy trial in Indianapolis will be presented tomorrow to President Wilson. Attorney General Zolting said today that for most of the defendants he had told today that he had prepared an application for pardon and later left for Washington to present it to the president.

The issuance of a mandate by the United States circuit court of appeals either returning the convicted men to the penitentiary at Leavenworth or remanding them to the federal district court in Indiana, it was decided, would probably hold up the case until the reviewing court rules on the motion of the prosecution for a rehearing of the six appeals in which a new trial was granted.

Under the ordinary procedure the motion for a rehearing would be argued in the April term and this course, in the opinion of counsel for the convicted men, will probably be followed.

Wiener was sentenced to serve six years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta. Meyer, a reputed millionaire, received a similar term and was fined $10,000.

TO REPAY OLD LOAN ON COLORADO CAPITOL

(By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.) Denver, March 12.—It was announced today that negotiations are under way between the state highway commission and the state capitol board for the re-payment of at least a part of the sum of $270,000 principal and interest of a loan from the internal improvement fund to the capitol building fund 25 years ago. The original loan was $120,000. The money was used for the completion of the state capitol building and has never been repaid.

The highway commission claims that the entire amount rightfully belongs to it for use in improving and constructing roads. When the money was transferred from the internal improvement fund, the legislature passed an act pledging the state to restore it. No action has ever been taken, however.

INQUEST TODAY INTO DOUBLE TRAGEDY

(By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.) Manchester, Iowa, March 12.—An inquest was expected to be held today to investigate last night's double tragedy in which Clyde Elder shot and killed John Ratz, a salaried man, and then killed himself. The shooting occurred at Elder's home. It was said a quarrel about a house painting job led to the shooting.

Car Thieves Now Charged With Murder

Surprised While Entering Car, Men Open Deadly Fire on Railroad Men. Three Captured.

(By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.) Peoria, Ill., March 12.—Freight car thieves early today killed one man and wounded three others when surprised while stealing goods from a car near Manlius, Ill., forty-five miles north of here. Three of the bandits were captured.

The bandit was still searching for one more member of the band when word of the shooting reached here. The victims of the shooting were Arthur Fisher, a Chicago & Northwestern railroad freight engineer, who was killed; Bert Skoglund, a deputy sheriff of Bureau county, Indiana; and Leslie Meyer, son of the sheriff, wounded in the leg, and the fireman of the freight train, also shot in the leg.

(By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.) Washington, March 12.—Activities of Andrew Carnegie's endowment for international peace in favor of a repeal of the Panama tolls exemption were brought out today before the Senate lobby committee in the testimony of James Brown Scott, secretary of the foundation.

It was developed that the endowment expended thousands of dollars in its campaign of education. Scott testified that there were a million copies of a pamphlet urging repeal under date of March 12, 1912, were distributed.

The endowment also distributed, Dr. Scott testified, 715,000 copies of Senator Root's speech urging the repeal.

Senator Walsh brought out that there was an allotment of $23,900 for circulation of Panama canal literature and that the 715,000 copies of Senator Root's speech had been sent out to the embryo clubs of the author's friend, Mr. Scott said the order of the executive committee directing this action had been taken in Senator Root's absence.

"This is a peace society, isn't it?" demanded Senator Reed.

"It is," answered Scott. "It has no authority to do with Panama tolls questions."

"Its business is to smooth out misunderstandings."

"And yield to other nations?" asked Senator Reed.

"You will find no yielding to other nations in our attitude," Scott declared.

The pamphlet, issued by members of the board of trustees of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, under date of March 12 last, was signed by Joseph H. Choate, Andrew D. White, Charles W. Eliot, John E. Caldwell, Elihu Root, Luke E. Wright, Charlemagne Tower, D. S. Woodward, Austin G. Fox, J. G. Schindラー, George S. Brooks, Oscar F. Straus, Samuel M. Taylor, James B. Stauden, Charles S. Taylor, Henry S. Prichett, William M. Howard, Cleveland H. Dodge, Robert A. Franks, Nicholas Murray Butler, Arthur William Frazer and James Brown Scott.

It appeal was as follows:

"The greatest interest of the United States is its reputation to represent worthily before the world the principles of civil and religious liberty and the public efficiency and well-being which those principles develop, and thereby to promote the adoption of these principles the world over."

"This is of great material as well as great moral interest, the accomplishment of which will further the interest of the United States in its coastwise vessels strike into insignificance."

"By securing the repeal of that part of the act of congress on the Panama canal which provided for the exemption of the coastwise vessels from the payment of tolls the American people would embrace a precious opportunity that they understand their highest interests and recognize their duty to promote it for the benefit of mankind."

It was the circulation of this pamphlet to which Senator O'Gorman had referred, in part, when he made the recent speech in the senate on the Carnegie endowment.

Dr. Scott was excused by the committee with the assurance from him that he would be at their service at any time.

Dr. Scott submitted the financial statement of contributions and contributions to the support of the institution, and of the dues of subscriptions.

Inquiry into the endowment was precipitated by the charge made in executive session of the senate by Senator O'Gorman that its main purpose was not to promote international peace, but to bring about a British-American alliance in the interest of a power which supported the institution.

Senator O'Gorman is leading the fight in the senate against repeal of the Panama canal tolls exemption and the lobby committee sought to find if men interested in the endowment were in any way interested in that issue.

The $59,500 annual revenue of the endowment is derived from bonds of the United States and corporations.

Senator Walsh asked particularly as to an annual contribution of $31,000 to the American Peace Society.

Secretary Scott said that organization was headed by Senator Burton and that it distributed to smaller organizations through the country documents dealing with the peace propaganda.

He agreed to produce copies of all which deal with general arbitration on canal tolls exemption.

Further inquiry into the peace endowment's records brought to light an allotment of $1,459 in 1912 for "propaganda for Panama tolls." That sum was expended, never was expended and still remains on the books.

Brocknight, The Newark Collector.

Charence W. DeKnight, the Washington lawyer, examined yesterday, suffered a nervous collapse and was unable to appear. He had promised to produce his contract with former Admiral Bowles, head of the Fore River Shipbuilding company, for work for a Panama canal tolls exemption. Bowles denies that DeKnight had such a contract.

ARMS SENT TO AMERICANS IN MEXICO ARE MISSING

Consignment for Which Huerta Gave Permission Has Never Reached O'Shaughnessy in City.

BELIEVED GOVERNMENT HAS CONFISCATED

(By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.)

Vera Cruz, March 12.—It is known here today that a special shipment of arms sent to the American embassy in the federal capital twelve days ago has not yet been placed in possession of Nelson O'Shaughnessy, American chargé d'affaires. It is believed to have been held by the federal authorities pending further negotiations.

It is thought that the authorities contend there had been some misunderstanding regarding the permission for the shipment.

The affair further develops that the screams came from the factory basement, not from the third floor of the building, where the state charged the girl was killed.

Mrs. Simmons further alleges that she reported the incident to local authorities on May 2 more than two weeks before the indictment of Frank, and that she was subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury or at the time the trial occurred.

The affidavit further states that the girl was found dead in the basement of the state prison on May 2, more than two weeks before the indictment of Frank, and that she was subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury or at the time the trial occurred.

James Conley, negro sweeper and principal state witness, testified that between 12:30 and 1 o'clock he helped Frank take the girl's body to the factory basement and secreted it there.

The affidavit further states that the American authorities here seemed disposed to regard the matter as possibly without great importance.
